The Pastor's Corner

To the saints at Stone Mountain:

As many of you know, I am not a big sports fan. I was so protective of my piano-playing hands while growing up, that I never played contact sports. I think my lack of playing them gave me little interest in watching them.

However, I do watch the Super Bowl every year because it is a news event. Plus, I look forward to the commercials. :-)

This past weekend's Super Bowl LIII was a great disappointment to many. For so many minutes there was no action that produced an increasing score. There was lots of running around and much expenditure of energy seen. The score simply was not advancing.

At a combined score of 16, this Super Bowl will go down in history as the Bowl with the lowest score- ever!

Think of all the hard work that went into game preparation. Think of all the people who traveled from near and far to attend the game. High anticipation and expectation met low performance and outcome.

I'm reminded of the game of life as I reflect on last weekend's Super Bowl. We can prepare and plan and prepare some more. Sometime the actual events to which we give ourselves are a huge disappointment.

Be not dismayed.

By God's grace we get to play another year.

Glad the tomb is empty,

Pastor Farmer
